Committed to caring for communities across our state

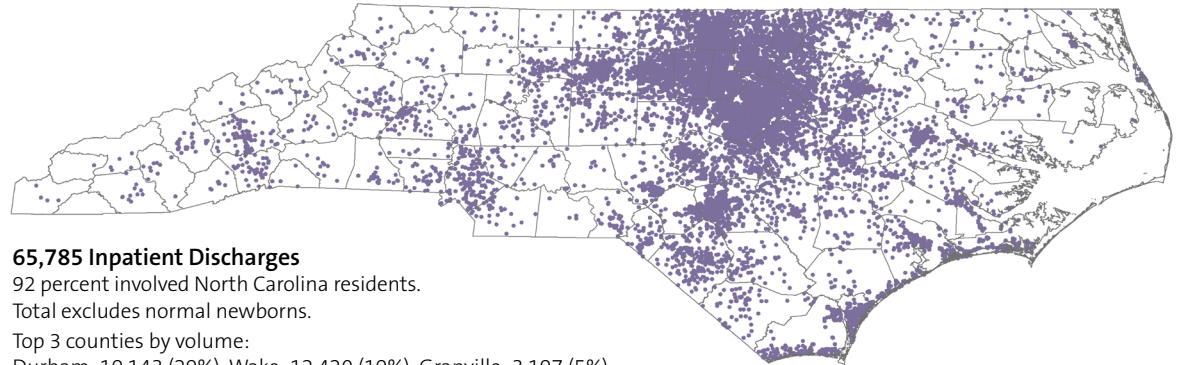

Welcome to the 2023 edition of the Duke University Health System Report on Community Benefit. The report highlights Duke’s commitment to promoting health, wellness, and access to quality care for the people and communities of North Carolina.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2022, Duke provided a total community benefit and investment of $945 million, a 15 percent increase from the previous year. Of that cost, $145 million represents financial assistance for 318,670 patients, nearly all of whom call North Carolina home.

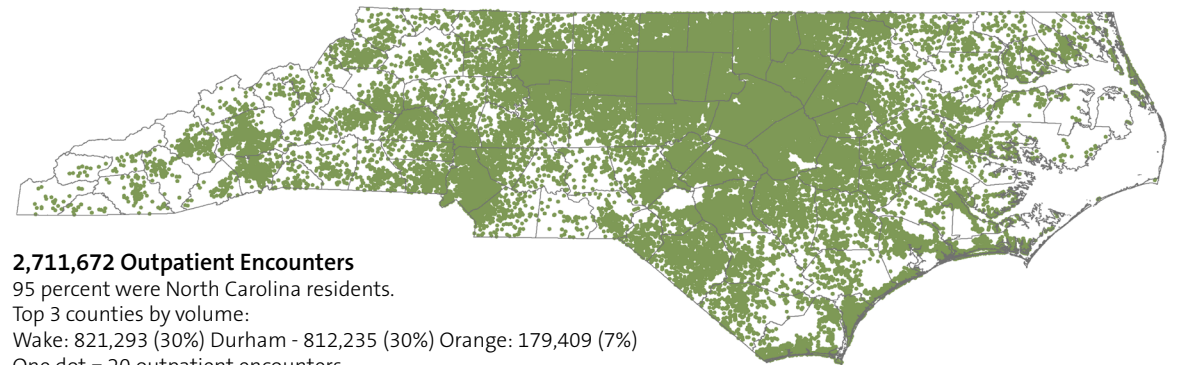

Duke’s commitment to its patients allows the Health System to ensure those who are uninsured or can’t pay for care because of financial hardship receive the treatment they need.

Including the $945 million for FY2022, Duke’s total community benefit and investment over the past 10 years is $5.9 billion.

Highlights of Duke's financial assistance and discounted care policies

- Duke provides state-of-the-art care with a consistent, high level of dignity, respect, and skill to all patients, regardless of ability to pay.
- Duke provides eligible care at a discount or without charge to all qualifying patients who do not have health insurance, or who cannot pay for care because of financial hardship. (Cosmetic procedures are not eligible.)
- Duke physicians donate emergency, primary, and specialty care services to eligible, uninsured patients through Project Access, a program in Durham and Wake counties.
- Duke helps patients navigate government-sponsored financial assistance programs.
- Duke absorbs cost differences when government programs such as Medicaid do not completely cover the cost of care.

$13 Million

Supporting the work of community groups

Duke and its local collaborators work to eliminate health care disparities and improve access to high-quality medical care.

In the 2022 fiscal year, Duke provided more than $13 million in cash and in-kind support for community groups, including:

- $8 million for Lincoln Community Health Center and its satellite community clinics, which serve a majority of uninsured patients with incomes below the poverty line.
- $3 million for Durham County's Emergency Medical Services program.
- $2 million in cash contributions to other community organizations.

$85 Million

Investing in health professions education

Educating the next generation of physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, physical therapists, and pathology assistants is central to Duke's mission to improve health care for patients and the community.

In the 2022 fiscal year, Duke invested $85 million in its health professions education program.

The program remains one of the most challenging and innovative in the country and emphasizes new models of community-focused care that focus on health, wellness, and self-care, as well as population health management.
